Awareness
Week
(FDAW) 2025

ISMM invites medical colleges and institutions across India to showcase the activities they organize during Fungal Disease Awareness Week (15–19 September 2025).

Activities may include awareness lectures, workshops, poster or quiz competitions, patient education programs, social media campaigns, or any other innovative initiatives to highlight the importance of fungal diseases.

Selected activities will be featured on the ISMM website and newsletter, giving your institution national visibility and recognition for its efforts.
